

Differential balance : énergy

- Understand the implementation of energy balance.
- Introduction of the use of an etiotherapy approach to establish a balance sheet that best targets the client's needs at the time of the session
- Presents itself on about 6 modules, in relation to the different concepts

Training location: Vevey 1800, Switzerland

Date: 3 days of continuing education

- according to body segments or system
- the dates will be indicated on news-event website and registration
- the dates will be indicated on site booking online and registration possible

Time: 9:00 to 17:00 from Saturday to Monday or from Friday to Sunday

General

Target audience : Any professional wishing to specialize in differential balance Holders of health training or movement science, holders of a complementary or alternative training in health and care.

Training Objective: Understand the various balance sheet tools to exclude emergencies Develop, using clinical cases, demonstrations, test interpretations and implementation practical situation of the following subjects

- Assessment with a manual therapy-osteopathic approach

This training is interactive and as practical as possible, spaces for discussion are provided.

Practical workshops

During this training, practical workshops will be offered

- manual assessment workshop with the appropriate exclusion tests
- Global Treatment Workshop
- workshop on special cases

Information : On the website: Training www.1-centre-sos.com/cours

Registrations possible by the site: news-event and further information: email: 1.centre.s.o.s@gmail.com

Registration deadlines: Date 2 months before the start of the course

Number of places limited to about 10 people per course

Course fee: CHF 750.00 - for 3 days

Your payment confirms your registration and is to be paid 2 months before the start date of the course on the account of the association. A RIB or payment slip with IBAN will be sent to participants upon registration.